

Low Income Household Water Assistance Program (LIHWAP)

What is the Low Income Household Water Assistance Program (LIHWAP)?

LIHWAP helps low-income households by providing financial assistance to water utility providers for eligible households whose water utility services (drinking water or wastewater) are disconnected or past due.

What services are provided through LIHWAP?

The Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) provides the following assistance:

- Priority Assistance: One-time payment, per federal fiscal year (October 1 through September 30), up to $2,500 is made for eligible households to water utility providers to restore water utility services or eliminate past due balances (arrearages) for water utility services. Payments may include the standard charges and fees included in the household water bill, deposits, standard reconnection fees, penalty fees, etc. LIHWAP funds cannot be utilized for equipment repair or replacement costs.

Who is eligible to receive LIHWAP?

To qualify for LIHWAP, a household must:

- Have income at or below 150% of the federal poverty level (FPL);
- Meet the LIHWAP citizenship and residency requirements;
- Be responsible for water utility services;
- Have disconnected water utility services or a past due balance for water utility services with a provider that has an agreement with DHHS; and,
- Not be otherwise disqualified or ineligible.

Household Size	150% FPL
1	$19,320.00
2	$26,130.00
3	$32,940.00
4	$39,750.00
5	$46,560.00

How do I get LIHWAP Assistance?

If the household has an active or pending Economic Assistance (EA) case, the household may request LIHWAP without submitting a new application. If the household does not have an active or pending EA case, the household must submit an agency-approved application for LIHWAP.

Individuals can request or apply for LIHWAP:
